Counties Oppose Dollar for Dollar Clause, Some Fight New Levies

COLUMBUS, O., March 18.—The administration's program to make local governments share half the cost of feeding, clothing and sheltering the needy reached a showdown in the Ohio legislature today.

The house of representatives began debate on its two principal [illegible] and leaders hoped for a vote by nightfall. This would clear [illegible] the way for consideration of the $85,400,000 biennial appropriation bills which the finance committee chairman said would be ready Monday.

Up for a vote first was the permanent relief bill which would require counties to match state grant dollar for dollar. Ready to follow it was a measure which would enable counties to levy local taxes for relief.

Passage Recommended

Members of the house sitting as a committee of the whole cast 72 votes for the relief bill in recommending it for passage yesterday. Ninety-two votes are necessary to pass it as an emergency measure so that it would go into effect immediately.

Many county officials have opposed the matching clause on the ground they had no funds. They also have opposed tax bills which Miley did not immediately find the fire alarm box but located one with the aid of a neighbor boy. He then returned to the house, climbed halfway up the front of the dwelling to the narrow window ledges and in that position reached up and took the children one at a time from the hands of the parents. He passed the children down to neighbors who took them to the residence of Wayne McKee next door. The children were in nightclothing.

POPE FLAYS COMMUNISM AS RUINOUS TO SOCIETY

Accuses Reds of Luring Working Classes With False Promises of Relief From "Undeniable Abuses."

By The Associated Press

VATICAN CITY, March 18.—Pope Pius XI condemned communism as "the ruin of family and society" in a lengthy encyclical issued today.

The Holy Father declared only the Catholic church could effectively oppose what he termed the "ravages of the anti-God campaign which shakes society to its very foundation."

The encyclical accused the Communists of having played upon the susceptibility of the working classes with promises of alleviation of "many undeniable abuses."

The Holy Father called upon Christian employers to combat communism by recognizing "the inalienable rights of the working man."

He urged priests throughout the world to stand in the front lines of the battle against communism and exhorted lukewarm Catholics everywhere to renew the active practice of their faith.

An official resume of the encyclical quoted the Pope as writing:

"The doctrine of communism is founded on pure materialism which rejects all spiritual values.

"Thus man's liberty is destroyed. All rights of his human personality are denied.

"Man becomes as if he were a mere cog in a collectivist machinery which has exclusive and unlimited control over the lives of men.

"Hierarchy and authority are nullified. The dignity and indissolubility of marriage is set aside. The family is profaned, woman torn from her home and from the care of her children.

"Religion is dubbed 'the opiate of the people' and assailed with any weapon at hand.

"The very idea of God is rejected and condemned."

2 Boys Escape From Juvenile Court Officer

Make Break for Freedom After Receiving Sentence to Industrial School

Two Marion youths escaped from a deputy of Juvenile Judge Owen Gast late this morning a few minutes after they had been sentenced to terms in the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster.

The boys are Troy Miller, 17, who had made the county juvenile detention home his residence for several weeks and Raymond Litell, 15, of 411 [illegible] avenue.

They not only escaped from Deputy Warren Bull as he was taking them to an automobile but also eluded Judge Gast and Police Captain E. C. Mackan later.

Admit Taking Groceries

The getaway took place a short distance from the courthouse. Judge Gast had just sentenced them for admittedly taking $6 worth of groceries from the McAfee grocery. Judge Gast quoted the boys as saying they took the merchandise for Miller's sister who was said to be in need of food.

Judge Gast said he considered the past records of the boys and their confessions of theft of the groceries and ordered them to serve terms in the industrial school. Miller, he said, previously served a term for stealing and Litell had been before the court twice on truancy and stealing charges.

Deputy Bull took the boys out of the courtroom after sentence had been passed and ordered them to accompany him to his automobile, planning to take them to the juvenile detention home. As they reached the automobile, the boys ran and escaped in alleys.

Later, Judge Gast drove west on Silver street and sighted them. He got out of the car and was walking toward them when they saw him and again escaped.

Police Captain E. C. Mackan saw them on Holmes place near police

BREAKS RECORD WITH 150 MILE SPEED AVERAGE

Flight Fastest Ever Made in Westerly Direction, Clipper Record Nearly 17 Hours

PASSES PLANES ON WAY

Two Pan American Flying Boats Had Left California Coast Ahead of Her.

By The Associated Press

HONOLULU, T. H., March 18.—Amelia Earhart [illegible] her globe-girdling flight [illegible] at Wheeler field at 8:25 a. m. Pacific standard time today (11:25 a. m. Marion time), completing her 2,400 mile over-water hop from Oakland, Calif., in less than 16 hours.

The aviatrix and her crew of three thus averaged better than 150 miles an hour on the night flight which began at Oakland at 4:37 p. m. P. S. T. yesterday.

Fastest Flight West

The flight was the fastest ever made in the westerly direction. The record made by the Hawaii Clipper last December was 16 hours 48 minutes.

There was a slight drizzle of rain falling and lack of wind [illegible] when her [illegible] the army airport at Schofield Barracks [illegible] as the plane came to a graceful landing.

Miss Earhart arrived shortly after daylight and several hundred spectators, including some still in evening [illegible] were at the field.

Husband Goes To Bed

At Oakland George Palmer Putnam, husband of Miss Earhart, ended a 16-hour vigil by taking his feet off a table, sighing and smiling.

"Guess I'll go to bed," he remarked.

At 1:55 a. m. Pacific standard time Miss Earhart had messaged radio station KGU she expected to arrive at Wheeler field at about 8 a. m. P. S. T. She said her approximate speed was 165 miles an hour.

"Clouds are obscuring the mountains," the station informed the intrepid aviatrix. "The ceiling is 1,700 feet. Visibility 10 miles. Occasional light showers."

Miss Earhart was well ahead of two Pan American flying boats that left Alameda on San Francisco bay next to Oakland a short while ahead of her.

Messages "All's Well"

It was the first time in history three such great trans-Pacific planes were in the air between the mainland and Honolulu at the same time.

Throughout the night and early morning Miss Earhart radioed occasional positions and frequent assurances "all is well."

At Wheeler field army air base near Honolulu a hundred soldiers were detailed to handle the crowds greeting the nation's first ranking aviatrix and wishing her success on the rest of her world flight on which she will seek data valuable to possible new commercial airlines.

The Pan American Clipper commanded by the veteran trans-Pacific flier Capt. Edwin C. Musick, was overtaken about an hour after Miss Earhart left Oakland at 4:37½ p. m. Musick is bound for Australia to pioneer a new route.

The Hawaii Clipper headed for Honolulu on a regular flight to Manila was overtaken at 8:15 p. m. by the aviatrix. She then was many miles north of the seaplane using a separate airlines' radio beam.

Her speed last night caused some concern to her husband, George

SUPREME TRIBUNAL CALLED INTOLERANT

Northwestern's Law School Dean Says Flexibility of Basic Law Can Meet All Crises.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Dean Leon Green of Northwestern university law school asserted today a majority of the supreme court had "assumed an attitude of intolerance and has displayed an intemperance" towards much of the legislation it has passed upon.

Appearing before the senate judiciary committee in behalf of the Roosevelt court bill, Green said the Constitution is flexible and it should not be permitted to ossify under the gloss of any court so as to defeat the ends for which it was designed."

Warming to his subject the Northwestern university dean said the supreme court, as a coordinate branch of the government, was subject to check as were the others, and that such a check can only be exercised through the constitutional way provided for the appointment of judges.

The duty to exercise that check, he argued, is "every bit as compelling" on congress and the Presi-

SELLING TRIMS STOCK PRICES

Labor Disputes and Inflation Talk Causes Traders To Turn Bearish.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 18—Traders lightened their holdings in today's stock market, as labor controversies spread and inflationary warnings dimmed the light of buying optimism.

The sell-off embraced virtually all parts of the list, with the exception of the utilities and losses of fractions to 3 or more points were well distributed near the fourth hour.

With the set-back in stocks U. S. government securities took a turn for the better and a number retrieved portions of their recent declines, corporate bonds were lower. Commodities were mixed.

Conspicuous on the losing side of stocks were New York Central, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Delaware & Hudson, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Goodrich, American Smelting, Westinghouse, General Electric, du Pont, Allied Chemical, American Telephone and International Harvester.

Labor disputes, further inflation warnings and business developments competed for attention in boardrooms before the start of trading.

That public spending momentum is still high was indicated by figures from 22 cities showing bank clearings for the week ended March 17, were up 2 per cent over the comparable 1936 period.

Interesting to the analysts was the 12-months' statement of Montgomery Ward disclosing a net of $4.12 a share, largest in the concern's history, against $2.65 a year ago.

FRENCH DIPLOMAT WOUNDED BY WOMAN

By The Associated Press

PARIS, March 18—Count Charles de Chambrun, former French ambassador and an honorary United States citizen, was shot and slightly wounded by a woman yesterday as he boarded the Bluebird express for Brussels.

Police identified the count's assailant as Mme. Madeline la Ferriere, 30-year-old tall and attractive secretary to the editor of a Paris newspaper.

They said she freely admitted the act and made no attempt to escape. Police said they were holding her for investigation.

Mme. la Ferriere is the divorced wife of a former sub-prefect and formerly did newspaper work, writing under the penname of Mme. de Fontanges. Premier Benito Mussolini gave her several interviews. She is well known in political and social circles in Paris and Rome.

While police refuse to divulge the motive for the shooting, Mme. la Ferriere's attorney said it apparently resulted from her belief Count de Chambrun had been the cause "of her losing the love of a man so famous his name cannot be mentioned."

DEMAND DOWN BUT WHEAT PRICES RALLY

Accounts Evened Up To Prepare for Government Crop Report Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 18—Despite lessened demand abroad for wheat, together with general selling here to realize profits, wheat prices rallied late today in the Chicago market.

Evening up of accounts to prepare for the United States government crop report tomorrow was a factor in the late upturn of wheat prices and so too was a renewal of the inflation talk. The crop report will deal with probable domestic spring wheat acreage for the 1937 harvest.

At the close, wheat was ⅝ of 1 cent above yesterday's finish, May 1.38⅝@1.39, July 1.24⅝@¾, corn ¼ off to to ⅞ up, May 1.10½@⅝, July 1.08⅛@⅝, oats at ⅛ decline to ⅛ advance, and provisions two cents to 12 cents down.

K. H. Marshall Again President; Action Taken on Night Football and Cage Eligibility Lists.

Officials of the North Central Ohio scholastic athletic league representing Marion, Bucyrus, Galion, Ashland, Shelby, Mansfield and Mt. Vernon met in Galion yesterday for the annual election of officers and formulation of the 1937-38 basketball schedule.

Decisions adopted at the session in regard to the discontinuance of the home-and-home basketball program and a ruling which affects members who refuse to participate in night football games were among the most important subjects.

K. H. Marshall, principal of Harding High school, was re-elected president of the N. C. O. conference, while W. L. Sutea of Galion and S. F. Jamison of Ashland were renamed to the posts of secretary-treasurer and vice president, respectively.

Discuss Night Games

The league officials, with the Mansfield representatives exempt from balloting, voted unanimously that in the case of football games the home team shall be given the right to set the playing time for the start of the contest. Officials of the league reported that all of the seven members of the conference would be requested to comply with the ruling.

Although the conference representatives would name no other school in connection with the ruling, they pointed out that those which do not have facilities for playing football at night object, on some occasions, to playing nocturnal contests on other gridirons. Galion, Mansfield and Mt. Vernon schools at the present time are without lighting system, and under the ruling it would be necessary for them to play night games on foreign fields, if the home team desired such a contest.

It was ruled to discontinue the home-and-home basketball schedule in which each team meets every other league opponent twice during a season. The program was cut down to a single meeting each season for any two league schools. Considerable objection was raised during the past season, officials said, when it was necessary for the loop entries to play mid-week games to complete league games on schedule.

Under the new set-up Marion will meet each other basketball team in the N. C. O. race but once each year, instead of twice, giving each entry a league program of six games. But cutting the league schedule to half its former size, the schools will have additional open dates on which to schedule outside opponents.

Plan Eligibility Lists

Eligibility lists for both varsity and junior varsity team members will be required next year, according to another ruling passed yesterday. The proposal is to eliminate the possibility of athletes playing in two games the same night and from switching players from the first team to the reserve line-up without regulation. Hereafter, it was ruled, a player who has participated in 60 per cent of the first teams' games, will automatically be dropped from the reserve eligibility list.

Trophies for the 1936-37 basketball season were presented. Ashland was the recipient of the varsity league award and Marion Harding was presented with the junior varsity award. Harding High school was represented at the meeting by Principal Marshall, Dewey N. Bohyer, athletic director, and Paul E. Huffman, faculty manager.

The 1937-38 cage schedule as announced following the meeting will give Marion's entries three home games with Galion, Ashland and Shelby, while four games with Bucyrus, Mansfield and Mt. Vernon will be played on the foreign courts.

As in past years the league will open with the initial round of games scheduled for the first week in January. The complete schedule follows: Jan. 7—Mansfield at Ashland, Mt. Vernon at Bucyrus, Galion at Marion. Jan. 14—Ashland at Galion, Marion at Mansfield, Mt. Vernon at Shelby. Jan. 21—Shelby at Ashland, Bucyrus at Galion, Mansfield at Mt. Vernon. Jan. 28—Bucyrus at Shelby. Feb. 4—Marion at Bucyrus, Galion at Mansfield. Feb. 11—Ashland at Marion, Galion at Mt. Vernon, Mansfield at Shelby. Feb. 18—Mt. Vernon at Ashland, Bucyrus at Mansfield, Shelby at Marion. Feb. 25—Ashland at Bucyrus, Shelby at Galion, Marion at Mt. Vernon.

PLACE IS SELECTED FOR CHURCH MEETING

Next Quarterly Conference of Christian Group To Be in Morrow County.

The Pleasant Grove Christian church near Mt. Gilead was selected as the place of the annual tri-county meeting of Christian churches at a quarterly meeting of the group yesterday at the Central church in Marion. The meeting will be held some time in June.

About 100 members of churches in Marion, Morrow and Crawford counties attended the sessions yesterday afternoon and last night and were present for a covered dish dinner at 6:30 at the church.

Mrs. Rose Kiddey of Galion presided in the afternoon and Dr. C. L. Baker of Kirkpatrick was in charge of the service at night.

The program theme, "Practical Christianity," was enlarged on in the afternoon by an address by Rev. Percy Kreason of Kirkpatrick on "The Christian's Practical Use of Prayer" and in two conferences, "The Christian and Absolute Honesty With Others, With Self," and "The Christian and Absolute Purity," led by Rev. [illegible] of Galion and Rev. W. H. Ellis of Caledonia.

Last night Dr. Harry L. Bell, pastor of the Central church, delivered a devotional address on "The Christian's Practical Use of Love."

OHIO MAY HAVE OPEN DEER SEASON

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 18.—Damage by white-tailed deer to farm crops along the Ohio river led state conservation department officials to consider today declaring a restricted open season on the animals this year. They said farmers already had made claims totaling more than $6,000 for crop damages.

FLUSH KIDNEYS OF POISONS AND STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS

Live a Healthier, Happier, Longer Life

Thousands of men and women wonder why backache bothers them—why they have to visit the bathroom often at night—why flow is scanty and sometimes smarts and burns.

Any one of these symptoms means that your kidneys and bladder need attention now before these minor symptoms develop into serious trouble.

To flush out waste poisons and acid from kidneys, soothe your irritated bladder and put healthy activity into them, get a 35 cent package of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed.

This harmless, tried and true medicine always works—you'll feel better in a few days, as the supremely effective diuretic and kidney stimulant drives excess uric acid from the body which is often the aggravation of joint agony, sciatica and neuritis.

But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland. All good things are imitated. —Adv.

STEP OUT OF THE "ALL THREE" CLASS

Actual photograph of Nash LaFayette "400" 4-Door Sedan with trunk

Why put up with "small car" limitations . . . you can now get a great big Nash for so very little more!

● That big car in the picture is the new 117-inch wheelbase Nash LaFayette "400". Isn't it a beauty? And it's much bigger than any of the "all three" small cars.

You get a 90 horsepower engine; oversized Double-Action hydraulic brakes; the strongest type of steel body construction. You get wider seats. More headroom and legroom. You get all these "extras"—yet this big Nash costs just a few dollars more than any of the "all three" small cars.

See the Nash Ambassador Six. A luxurious 121-inch wheelbase car. It's even bigger than cars costing $200 more. See the Nash Ambassador Eight. 125 inches of wheelbase! A 105 horsepower "Twin-Ignition" valve-in-head engine. You'll be amazed at how easy it is to own. See Nash first—this year! You're missing a bet if you don't.

ASK ABOUT THE CONVENIENT TERMS AND LOW RATES AVAILABLE THROUGH THE NASH C.I.T. BUDGET PLAN.

Automatic Cruising Gear available on all Nash models at slight extra cost.

*FOR AS LITTLE AS $1 OR $2 A MONTH EXTRA YOU CAN GET OUT OF THE "ALL THREE" CLASS

A check-up recently made in ten representative cities shows that the Nash LaFayette "400" 4-Door Sedan with trunk DELIVERS for just a FEW dollars more than the similarly equipped 4-Door sedans of the "All Three" small cars. In many places, the SLIGHT price difference is just $1 or $2 a month extra on your time payments.

The Time Has Come

[illegible] board [illegible] plan

[illegible] and immediate [illegible] for balancing the federal budget at any [illegible] time [illegible] come to quit pumping [illegible] from the [illegible] to the public and to start pumping them from the public back to the government

Unless [illegible] warns Mr Eccles [illegible] about that [illegible] exactly [illegible] but the budget must be balanced or the whole experiment of managed credit will end in an explosion like a toy balloon left too long on the end of an airhose

It would be a good idea to note carefully at this time that Mr Eccles who undoubtedly speaks for the Roosevelt administration has made such a statement For it is the curse of experiments with managed money that they can be managed successfully in only one direction—upward Everybody feels good as long as money is getting easier Nobody feels good when it threatens to get tighter which is what will happen when the government begins to sweat out heavier taxes to pay its debt Mr Eccles says banks have enough credit to keep money easy but that won't prevent resistance to his plan for balancing the budget

If this seems like undue skepticism it should be noted that congressional leaders questioned about Mr Eccles statement gave cool answers The big heartedness which made politicians approve every move to hand out money on federal credit will need to be accompanied by a stiff backbone to get the money back in time to prevent runaway inflation Lack of backbone always has been and still is the great shortcoming of experiments with managed money

Asking Too Much

German Americans are excellent people as a whole They have made important contributions to civilization's advancement on this continent

It is therefore distressing to hear that a few of them are losing their sense of proportion over criticism of Adolf Hitler Some are going so far as to insist that the fuehrer should be treated as a kind of sacred cow in this country At least one group in New York City has gone so far as to dress up in fancy uniforms decorated with swastikas There even has been a minor outbreak of Jew baiting

It is every American's privilege to make a monkey of himself as long as it doesn't entail making an involuntary monkey of someone else Let the German Americans sympathize with Hitler to their hearts content even if they must wear uniforms to do it But they must not demand that their fellow Americans agree with them That's asking too much It's the price they must pay for being German Americans instead of just plain German

It's So Easy

An Ohio State professor who is said to be an expert on what moving pictures do to the mass mind has made two observations [illegible] pretty keen the other not so keen

The only role I can see for censorship [illegible] that of guarding the experiences of the immature [illegible] the way to get rid of objectionable films is to stay away from them and that has no sense to it at all

[illegible] self discipline amounted to anything where the mass mind is concerned the world wouldn't need to worry about the liquor problem the gambling problem the marriage problem or most of its other problems It wouldn't have to be concerned about even so weird an arrangement as double billing to use up an unwieldy surplus of bad pictures That part of the audience which doesn't like double bills simply would stay away

It's so [illegible] easy [illegible] the trouble with it

Too Late

Andrew Mellon's [illegible] worth of old masters and a suitable museum to house them [illegible] going to be accepted as soon as the senate and house can combine the separate bills they have approved

It's too late to do anything more than [illegible] Alexander Woollcott's idea for disposing of the picture Woollcott thought they should be sent from place to place in the whole country instead of massed under one roof in Washington It was his idea that a gift to the people should be made [illegible] available to as many of them [illegible]

There would [illegible] famous paintings [illegible] public buildings [illegible] New York [illegible] had at least [illegible] masterpiece

No Inroads On Rail Unions

It is [illegible] that the Lewis [illegible] labor has not made inroads [illegible] railroad unions The latter [illegible] the American Federation of Labor The railroad brotherhoods [illegible] their own problems and do [illegible] labor [illegible] except of [illegible] expression of sympathy for labor legislation [illegible] other groups bring such [illegible]

The men who speak for railroad labor are [illegible] in leadership They have a background of intelligent trade unionism behind them Maybe other labor unions [illegible] industrial type fostered by John L Lewis will some day develop the same kind of leadership especially as collective bargaining becomes more and more an integral part of our economic structure But there is on the other hand no way to develop labor leaders of responsibility until they feel the weight of responsibility in the solution of their problem

Many an industrialist will tell you privately that he would favor recognition of the labor union he happens to be fighting if he could be assured of responsible labor leadership That's why the movement for incorporation of labor unions is so strong among employers They want assurance against arbitrary and capricious action Federal law has given just such assurance to railroad management through the provision of [illegible] mediation machinery [illegible] that labor agrees under the terms of the federal law not to strike until certain steps of a mediatory character have been taken

There are labor leaders outside the railroads who do not like even the simple limitations Occasionally some of them say railroad labor has lost its strike weapon But as a practical matter the presence of the ultimate strike weapon is a leverage which railroad labor always has possessed and still possesses under federal law

What the railroad mediation act really [illegible] is the same thing that William Jennings Bryan tried to introduce as a world principle in his famous peace treaties—a nine months period of investigation of the merits of a dispute and an agreement not to resort to war in the interim

What railroad labor has agreed to—a period of investigation before resort to a strike—has worked out to labor's interest and not to its disadvantage The maritime strike on the Pacific coast which

Eccles Delivers Serious Criticism

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON March 18 The most serious criticism of the way things are going [illegible] deep within that warning statement from Chairman Eccles of Federal Reserve

It was obscured from the public eye by the use of technical financial wordage understood only by experts and economists But it the public failed to detect the dire intimations underneath policy makers around the top here did not They know Mr Eccles was trying to stop certain trends tendencies and policies within the administration and without as plainly as if he had waved a stop sign in front of the White House and the country

Charges

To these knowing interpreters Mr Eccles might just as well have mentioned names and charged straight out

That it is time to call a halt on Messrs Ickes and Hopkins

That those gubernatorial friends of President Roosevelt who were over at the White House the other day begging for bigger relief appropriations and their congressmen are helping to drive the country toward the inflationary danger line

That John Lewis and—or the steel companies did equally as much toward the same uneconomic end when they negotiated shorter hours and wages which brought immediately increased prices

That this hour wage price spiral trend must be stopped short of curtailing demand or there will be very serious economic trouble

That he himself cannot do anything effective to control price looting by further monetary action as the trend is bolstered by government inflation and other factors

That one thing which can be done is to balance the budget by increased taxation if necessary

All these unpleasant and unpopular things he hinted at with more force and clarity than outspoken critics have been able to express

Authority

Ordinarily you might guess the next step would be Gov Eccles resignation but that would be a very bad guess

There is good reason for believing the chairman of Federal Reserve would not have made such a statement without first going all the way to the top It may be too much to say Mr Roosevelt personally approved every line in the statement but he at least knew about it and did nothing to discourage it

Furthermore it appears the matter has been the subject of long and serious debate among a formidable group of new order [illegible] that is substantially expressive of the viewpoint of Treasury Secretary Morgenthau if not Agricultural Secretary Wallace

Whether this presages a change in certain policies (labor spending etc) is another question The only apparent purpose of officially advertising these defects voluntarily now was to call attention to them that is to start an argument within the new order For the present therefore it may only mean a distinct cleavage between two factions of Roosevelt advisers with the Ickes-Hopkins congressional spenders and the Perkins Lewis proponents on one side and the Eccles Morgenthau Wallace warners on the other

Service

These tactics are really water on the Presidential wheel anyway in connection with his most serious inside trouble right now Worry wheel paddle number one is the Wagner housing bill which would appropriate undecided millions for rehousing no longer called low cost even facetiously Then there is congressional clamor for more relief more CCC and more of nearly everything

The Eccles agitation will have the practical effect of offsetting this trend for the President even if nothing else is done about the dangers to which he has called attention

It also may serve the purpose of establishing an excellent advance alibi for the new order against obviously developing price dangers

Analysis

The basic Eccles theory on the wage-hour price spiral is that increased wages do no good unless accompanied by increased production The added purchasing power of the extra money is being offset by shorter hours which really decrease production and increase prices to the general public

The government has not chosen to give out any figures but one of its foremost economists has figured privately that only $1 of a $3 to $4 price increase made in steel is represented by wage increases He did not figure out how much was represented by increased prices of raw materials going into manufacture of steel

This they say is merely a method of bidding up prices without increasing real wealth which is production To them it is a tragic illusion the same old story of 1929 etc

The bumps they say will soon come when rising prices hit the ceiling and consumers start rebelling but not buying any more than they actually need to live

Brooklyn Entirely Different

BY O O McINTYRE

NEW YORK March 18—Brooklyn is the only borough that is a part of the greater city yet seems utterly detached All the other boroughs in the metropolitan area from Richmond to the Bronx have the New York flavor and their difference is entirely geographical They talk and act the same

But crossing to Brooklyn is like entering another city—a city as far removed as Seattle The residents have a different look and their talk is not the same Still many of the lingual diehards who continue to pronounce Cuba Cuber pearl poil and aw awr

There is an immense calm too in Brooklyn that Manhattan has never achieved The sidewalk pace is a saunter in contrast to the gallop The police are a mite more friendly And Brooklyn appears snugly in bed long before the midnight hour It rises earlier too

Along the residential thoroughfares the houses have expansive lawns roomy porches and a fine cultured simplicity Brooklyn Heights the ancient aristocratic section is still conscious of its venerable dignity and social restrictions as they were a half century ago

And I have come to believe my favorite street for briskness and excitement is narrow and noisy Nassau down town especially at the lunch hour when clerks stenographers and other office workers take it over overflowing the streets and pavement There is a perk to the little specialty shops Cafeterias with dance orchestras Curb hawkers spieling everything from razor blades to ladies silk stockings Also good nature in the milling and jostling—a geysering of suddenly released spirits from cramped office routine Charles Dana used to like to stroll along Nassau So did Frank I Cobb editor of the World and Boss Clarke of the Sun

New York's tony restaurants have certain evenings and noons which are outstanding Nobody knows why A few bellwethers start going there and the sheep come tumbling after El Morocco is jammed on Monday night The Colony overflows on Wednesday noon Saturday is the night at No 21 and Thursday evening requires a court order to get into the Stork Club The Waldorf Sert Room has its big night Tuesday And so it goes A place to go every evening in the week where the dressy may be seen and preen And the gossip writer fill their note books with names that count as cheering throngs of strikers marched down the boulevards singing the Internationale and greeting the swarms of people with their clinched fist salute.

Steel-helmeted mobile guards kept strictly out of sight in an effort to avoid precipitating any possible clash. They materialized however, seemingly out of nowhere whenever the demonstration seemed to be getting out of hand.

One group of 300 strikers was dispersed when they took up a threatening attitude before a business house that had not closed.

Many workers did not know they were on strike until they left their homes for work and saw the front page of the Communist paper L'Humanite posted at principal points carrying the strike declaration.

Union officials declared the strike was complete.

A way to obtain adequate relief funds was suggested by Rep. Gus Kasch, Democrat of Summit. He proposed a constitutional amendment which would permit the state to issue $1,000,000,000 worth of bonds, half to be used for relief and half for a public works program.

One of the four bills passed by the senate is designed to prevent the establishment of 'fly-by-night' colleges by requiring them to have productive endowment funds. The measure, introduced by Sen. James M. Matthews Jr., Democrat of Clark, goes to the house.

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDDEMER

[illegible] Margaret [illegible] Hannersfield [illegible] 24-year-old [illegible] Connecticut [illegible] years in New [illegible] rent, marry [illegible] and return to [illegible] life. But [illegible] in her bee [illegible] Uncle Henry [illegible] moves in [illegible] place, Peter, [illegible] wife, Marylin, [illegible] young son, [illegible] as boarders [illegible] George Clevenger [illegible] tells Eve [illegible]

[illegible] Yes [illegible] nobody [illegible] for a [illegible] everything to [illegible]

me. You haven't made up the other fellow yet to send me off?"

"No, I haven't. There are reasons why we have to [illegible] an actual engagement now," Eve explained. "We aren't in a position to afford to marry, and you know you keep it quiet till you can tell people when you're going [illegible]."

It sounded [illegible] as she said it. "It [illegible] on earth but George [illegible] all tied up with Mrs. [illegible] Denny's job."

"All right. I see," said George, evidently not seeing or approving too violently.

"Oh, I'm so sorry—but it's real—there is somebody—" she said incoherently.

"There would be, I suppose, with a girl like you." He was a little whiter. He stood up. After a moment he spoke again with some effort. "We'll be neighbors till you go. It may be weeks or months. I don't know your plans. I mean, we'll go on the principle that it hasn't happened, and we're darn good friends, and I'm on my way upstairs to help Uncle Henry put up an extra bed or two for the Featherstones. I—" he smiled for the first time—"I like you too much to have us stop liking each other because I wanted us to love each other. Promise?"

She drew a long sigh of relief. "Oh, George, thank you! It's selfish, but we are friends?"

"Yes," said George unpatiently, "damn it, that was to have been the take-off!"

A late ray of the sunset glinted across his head where he stood in line with the window, and turned his thick sandy hair bright. It suddenly occurred to Eve that he had unquestionably been a red-haired little boy; which meant that under what she considered his stolidity must somewhere be temper and sensitiveness. Somehow she liked him better for the flash of crossness.

"Now I'll go find Uncle Henry in the garret," he said with his usual manner, and walked out of the room in the direction of the attic stairs.

Eve sat still a moment longer to pull herself together. Then she remembered Ellen and the Featherstones and the necessity for supper.

Candles on the Mantel.

Marylin, all alone and half asleep, was still curled in the big old sleepy-hollow chair that had been the last thing brought down from the attic, a chair that really belonged in the second floor. The room was warm, after the chill of the halls, for somebody had piled the big hearth high again with logs. Candles burned on the mantelpiece, Peter, probably. Peter was sweet about things like that, small luxurious attentions; he always remembered to renew your candles for you and push ash trays near and stand ready with your coat held. He waited on his Marylin as devotedly after 12 years of matrimony as he had when they married.

Eve knelt down by the fire warming her hands.

"Where's everybody?" she asked.

Marylin yawned, stretching her body like a long thin kitten.

"Hello, Eve! Pete always has a nap about this time. Judge is out somewhere. I found a sweater in the hall closet that I think was [illegible] as I saw Judge put it on [illegible] was right, wasn't it? Ellen's out going [illegible] in the kitchen. I told her we didn't want a thing

George stood up. "We'll go on the principle that it hasn't happened and we're darn good friends."

just a sandwich or two: we don't ever have regular meals to speak of anyway, except when we go out and prey on our swank friends, wretches that we are. What shame Denny couldn't stay." She watched Eve shrewdly, trying to guess how things were between them. "He's such a darling."

Denny ... Eve was suddenly close to Denny in her heart. She leaned against the mantel, forgetting to answer. Ah, what a pity that the world wasn't arranged so that it was Denny who could have the old Seymour house and horses and cars and all the leisure he wanted! Denny, who could be so lordly and wonderful if only he had what George seemed to need so little. Her face was rapt in the candle-light. Marylin laughed at her lovingly.

"Love's young dream, darling?"

"Love's young dream, of course!" Eve said promptly. "I was thinking that I can't leave Ellen to it." She rose to go out.

"Oh, Ellen loves it. Never so happy as when alone with a good book and her little chafing-dish, like all actresses," said Marylin.

Out In the Kitchen

Eve heard footsteps on the stairs, George and Uncle Henry, having done their good deed in the Featherstone bedroom.

George said, "Well, goodby, Uncle Henry. See you at 10 tomorrow about those sweelings—"

Oh, he was all right. She needn't worry if he could speak in that cheerful businesslike way. She could go on being friends with him, thank goodness! He was like Ellen, he had a talent for friendship.

Eve waited until she heard the front door open and close, saw the gleam as Uncle Henry passed into the lighted kitchen and shut that door, too, after him; and slowly followed.

The big square kitchen looked warm and inhabited. Three contented people were sitting down at the old cherry table near the gas range. The flames of the lamps on the brackets shone bright through their polished chimneys. On the old drop-leaf table Ellen had spread one of the old-fashioned checked red-and-white tablecloths, from the attic. Somebody had found pussy willows; they were in a willow-pattern pitcher in the middle of the table. A big round baking dish bubbled and smoked with macaroni and tomatoes at Ellen's end of the table; Uncle Henry, his gray hair wetly brushed and his shirt sleeves rolled down, presided over a platter of crisp, [illegible] for a pork [illegible] lettuce with [illegible] Ellen's own [illegible] dressing. A dressing [illegible] or French nor Italian [illegible] she always [illegible] everything she [illegible] and [illegible] kicked.

They all looked up at her and grinned like [illegible] surprised.

Ellen and Uncle Henry grow serious about finances, tomorrow.

RAILS DEMONSTRATE BEST WAY TO PEACE

that the nation so heavily would have been settled long before it was, if proper mediation machinery had been provided by congress. Certainly there was no lack of legal precedent and certainly maritime interests come obviously under the regulatory power of the commerce clause of the federal constitution.

What then shall be said of the motor industry? While some of the executives of auto companies probably will not relish the placing of their industries under any form of regulation through the commerce clause, still if the Wagner labor act had been properly written and had taken as its model the railroad mediation act, the "sitdown" strikes would never have occurred. Outlaw strikes happen now and then on railroad systems, but the pressure of railroad labor's lawful spokesmen keeps these outbreaks from ever becoming serious.

So would it be with large industries that do business across state lines. A definition of interstate commerce in fixing them in the category of railroads would never have been challenged as to constitutionality in the courts if a fair and impartial labor machinery had been set up by congress and by the several states as well. For the public ought never to be treated to a stoppage of necessary services just because neither federal nor state authorities have taken the initiative. Federal and state power can be invoked to prevent the necessity of "sitdown" strikes [illegible] with the supreme court on which the administration [illegible] to blame everything that [illegible] wrong. The fault is with the congress and the President who have failed to recommend the necessary amendments of the Wagner labor law so as to make it a practical and effective and two-sided law instead of a partisan law administered by a partisan board in which public confidence is consequently lacking.

America has a national labor policy. Railroad labor and railroad management have tested it and found it effective. Its principles can be applied to other industries by state as well as federal law so that "sitdown" strikes or any other kind of strikes can be rendered superfluous.

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Tastes Happiness In Reunion With Her Father.

UNTIL I felt my father's arms clasping me closely in that first blissful moment of reunion, I had not realized how heavy a weight of anguished terror had been mine since his departure from the farmhouse upon the mysterious, dangerous enterprise which I knew must now be nearing completion, if indeed, his mission were not already accomplished.

He was alive and well! I had seen that in my first glimpse of him as he stood erect and smiling at me from the doorway of the underground stone room at the Polly Perkins Inn. In the reaction from the fear that I would never see him in the flesh again—a fear, that, no matter how bravely weighed, had never been wholly submerged—I broke down altogether and sobbed against his shoulder, able only to murmur over and over again, "Oh, Father! Father! Father!"

For a long minute he did not try to quiet me, just held me closely and stroked my hair. Then I felt Lillian's firm hand on my shoulder.

"Come, Madge!" she said. "You're a soldier's daughter. Don't delay the game."

The words were like the sudden flick of a whip, a spur which I sorely needed. I caught back my sobs into a shuddering breath or two, drew myself erect, dried my eyes and turned an apologetic face to the others.

"I am so sorry!" I said. "But I am perfectly all right now, I promise you. I shall give you no more of this."

Even Dicky Softens

"My own brave girl!" my father murmured, and I saw only comprehending sympathy in the eyes of the others. Even Dicky's face was for the moment kindly, but when he saw me looking at him, he abruptly turned his eyes away, for all the world like a schoolboy caught in some discreditable action.

"Dicky's working harder at that grouch than if it were a first job he couldn't afford to lose," she said, and I felt my lips twitching at the aptness of her observation. For I, also, had observed stray little signs which told me that my sulking husband was having a hard time keeping himself angry at me.

"If I may venture a suggestion," Miss Perkins said briskly, "I would like to tell you that a Polly Perkins dinner doesn't improve with standing on the stove."

"A most excellent suggestion," my father said. "Will you please have it served here at once?"

"In less than five minutes," Miss Perkins answered, and departed upon the word.

Mary waited only until the door closed behind her before rushing over to my father and grasping his arm.

Says Noel Is Safe

"I can't be dignified and controlled," she said with quivering lips. "Oh, Grandpa Spencer, do you know where Noel is, and if he's all right?"

My father looked down at her with eyes that held sympathy, and—I saw with sudden fear—pity as well.

"To the best of my knowledge, dear child," he said, "your husband is safe and well on his father's yacht. How I came by that knowledge I cannot tell you as yet, and I must also tell you that my knowledge is not up to date—a matter of two or three days. But I have no reason to believe that he is not all right."

"It's all right," she said. "Of course, there are things we can't know now. But Noel's not all right. He's in some terrible trouble, or headed for it. I'm sure of it!"

"JOY"

Thursday, March 18. "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Read Matthew 25:14-23.

A visitor to America said that what most impressed him on the streets of New York was not the skyscrapers, but the joyless faces of the crowd. Sir L. P. Jacks [illegible] of "The [illegible] Radiance of the Christian Religion." [illegible] I am tired of gloomy churches. I want the [illegible]

Joy is the concern and the [illegible] of the "[illegible]" of the human soul. It is the positive temper which marks our consent to, and our accord with, the whole vast reality of things about us. It is the most we know looking over the open sea, or from the top of a mountain, or across rolling prairies. It is a correspondence of something within us to breadth, and beauty, and serenity in the world without. It is a summons to us to crawl out of the insulated dungeon of self-consciousness into our divine environment. "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord!"

Prayer: Lord of all power and might, who art the author and giver of all good things: Graft in our hearts the love of thy name, increase in us true religion, nourish us with all goodness, and of thy great mercy keep us in the same. Amen.

"Careers" On Stage Await 150 Rural Residents Here

Mr and Mrs Farmer from grandfather on down will be given an opportunity to display their secret theatrical ambitions April 22-23-24 when a countywide home talent show will be staged here at Central Junior High school auditorium, Raymond W Pifer, assistant county extension agent, announced today. The show, which will be designed to offer roles for 150 persons, will be patterned after the famous radio program, the WLS National Barn Dance, which may be heard every Saturday night at [illegible] over the NBC Blue network which includes WLW at Cincinnati.

The rural extension office is sponsoring the event on behalf of the rural youth recreational program which was inaugurated here last week with a party at the armory. County Agent S. L. Anderson completed a contract with station WLS this week and a director from the Barn Dance program will be in Marion April 14 and 15 to conduct tryouts at the Y. M. C. A. and to select the cast.

All rural residents of the county who feel they are qualified to take any of the [illegible] roles in the show can apply to Mr Pifer at the county agent's office on East Center street. Musical, vocal, dramatic and dancing talent are especially needed, he said.

Following selection of the cast several rehearsals will be held and on the night of April 24 preceding the [illegible] will be held. The players in the show will receive no compensation for their parts, Mr Pifer said, owing to the fact that all proceeds from the show will be used to further the youth movement in the county.

The youth movement is being started here to provide a means for farm boys and girls to enjoy parties and folk games and other forms of rural recreation. Three or four countywide meetings similar to the one held last Friday will be held this year and later when the group is more firmly established the county will be sub-divided for smaller recreational units, Mr. Pifer said. Owen Strine, field man at the Marion County Farm Bureau, is cooperating in the movement.

Some of the leading roles in the show will be those of Joe Kelly, master of ceremonies; the Maple City Four, a vocal quartet; Lulu Belle and Arkie, a comedy team; Sally Foster, singer; the Novelodeans, singers and comedians; the Hoosier Hotshots, a vocal quartet, and Uncle Ezra, oldtime comedian.

How Many Pennies Your Child's Life?

Don't Try to "Save" on Home Remedies—Ask Your Doctor

There is one point, on which practically all doctors agree. That is: Don't give your child unknown remedies without asking your doctor first.

All mothers know this. But sometimes the instinct to save a few pennies by buying "something just as good" overcomes caution.

When it comes to the widely used children's remedy — "milk of magnesia" — many doctors for over half a century have said "PHILLIPS." For Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is the standard of the world. Safe for children.

Keep this in mind, and say "PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA" when you buy. Comes now, also in tablet form. Get the form you prefer. But see that what you get is labeled "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia." 25¢ for a big box of the tablets at drug stores.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

KARL S. BOLANDER

KARL S. BOLANDER TO SPEAK FRIDAY

Authority on Art Will Talk Before Pearl Street School Parent-Teacher Group.

Karl S. Bolander of Columbus, widely known in the field of fine arts education and formerly director of the Columbus Museum of Art, will speak tomorrow night at 7:30 before the Pearl Street P.-T. A. at the school auditorium. Mr. Bolander is a former Marion man, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bolander of 283 South Prospect street, and received his early education here.

The public is invited to attend the meeting Mrs. Fred Johnson, program chairman, announced. Arrangements for Mr. Bolander to speak here were made through Mrs. Paul Williams, treasurer of the organization.

Mr. Bolander's topic will be "Art as it Affects the Happiness of a Child's Life" and his talk will be illustrated with art objects which he has collected in his extensive travels throughout the world. Many of the illustrations are those made by children under both normal and unusual conditions. Mr. Bolander will discuss the proper types of books and pictures which parents should select for their children at various ages. Color choices for children's costumes, proper wall coverings in bedrooms and recreation rooms for children and suggestions for vocational guidance will also be treated.

For the last quarter century Mr. Bolander has specialized in the field of art education and has supervised the erection of art schools and museums in Ft. Wayne, Ind., and in Columbus. He has lectured to more than two million persons in his career and has spoken several times in Marion.

He is president of the National Art Hobby club, art director of the National Guildcrafters, state director of the American Artists Professional league and secretary of the Ohio Water Color society.

The [illegible] may be [illegible] some time before [illegible] strong enough. It [illegible] first sign of trouble [illegible] regard this symptom or regard it as of no more importance than the need of new glasses. [illegible] they neglect to get the glasses.

As the disability progresses there is increased failure of vision and growing inability to see objects clearly. Of course this symptom may be due to some other disturbance of the eyes. It is not always a sign of cataract.

The truth can only be determined by a careful examination of the eye. Since cataract sometimes occurs as a complication of some constitutional disorder, it is wise to have a complete physical examination.

It is not unusual to have cataract as one of the results of diabetes. If that disorder is eradicated in the early stage, the cataract may not progress. In this event the operation may be avoided.

If you are suspicious of cataract, consult with your doctor. He will advise as to treatment and whether an operation is needed.

NEW YORK, March 18 — Depending, of course, on whether the Dizzy one makes it stick, the abdication of the great Jerome Herman Dean from the St. Louis Cardinals will just about spell flowers and soft music for the 1937 pennant hopes of the Gas House gang.

With Dizzy fogging 'em in the Cards [illegible] out as a potential [illegible] in the coming National league race. If he continues his holdout and goes on with his threat to retire this year, the strength of Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates and New York, defending pennant holders, all may pass the Deanless outfit.

Although you can still get odds that Dizzy will be in there opening day, the situation if it developed would be without parallel. Players of other eras such as the Giants' Edd Roush and the Cubs' Johnny [illegible] extended holdouts through entire seasons but never has any one recalcitrant meant a pennant.

As a potential 25-game winner Dean would bolster any club. With the Cards, who have none too many first-rate hurlers, his absence would leave Lon Warneke, obtained from the Cubs over the winter, as the only seasoned hurler.

Such a development would hardly leave the feared Gas House gang, minus its ace, holding the same hand with the Cubs, Pirates and Giants in the season's pennant poker game.

Looking at it from another angle, Dean, by winning 24 games last season, just about single handedly brought the Cards into a second place tie in the final standings only five games back of the Clan.

Without these games and [illegible] about as sure as death and taxes that the Cards can't pull another 25-game winner out of the hat now — St. Louis may wind up 10 games farther back. This [illegible] conceivably could leave the Cards at the tail end of the first division or even in the second section.

Dean wants $50,000, says he'll quit the game if he doesn't get it.

SOFTBALL HEADS TO MEET TONIGHT

Marion's 1937 softball program was [illegible] into action tonight at the Y. M. C. A. with the meeting of officials, players and followers of the game for the annual spring banquet. Indications of a large turnout of the affair, which officially launches the season, was seen in the large number of reservations made early this week with Elmer Shaw, softball commission secretary. The affair was to begin at 6:30 o'clock with a discussion of the coming season and the election of four commission members set for the business session.

[illegible] Forty-two players' [illegible] the American Asso- [illegible] season merited [illegible] major league [illegible] advanced through [illegible] sale; the other [illegible] A.A. on option. Of [illegible] drafted, five were [illegible] four each [illegible] Indianapolis and St. [illegible] Toledo two each [illegible] Milwaukee and [illegible] with Kan-

[illegible] moved up from [illegible] each were with [illegible] Indianapolis and Colum- [illegible] each with Kansas [illegible] Louisville. Twelve of the [illegible] drafted are pitchers [illegible] Fette, the A.A.'s [illegible] last year. He won 25, [illegible] Paul Fette joins [illegible] catchers moved up. Arnold Owen and Paul Cher- vinko advanced from Columbus to the parent Cardinals. Mike Tresh of Toledo to Detroit and Bob Garbark, also of the Mudhens, who performed in the outfield as well as behind the bat, was sold to the Cubs. Owen was the only .300 hitter of the lot, with a .336 mark.

The three infielders who go up are first-basemen. Columbus sold Eddie Morgan to Brooklyn, where he may go to the outfield; Toledo sent Harry Davis to the Browns and the Cubs drafted Dick Siebert from Indianapolis. Siebert was the leading hitter of the trio at .330.

Four clever outfielders moved up. Jack Winsett, who clouted 50 homers for Columbus, was sold to Brooklyn as was Gil Brack of Louisville. Minneapolis sent Fabian Gaffke to the Red Sox and St. Paul sold Henry Steinbacher to the Pale Hose. Winsett nosed out Steinbacher for batting honors among the four, with .354.

Ten of the optioned players are moundsmen, seven infielders and two outfielders.

'Mad' Hatter Tops

Leading pitchers in games won and lost: Clyde (Mad) Hatter, 16-6, Milwaukee to Detroit; Mike Ryba, 11-7, Columbus to Cardinals; Jim Henry, 6-3, Minneapolis to the Red Sox; Bill McGee, 13-5, Columbus to Cardinals; LeRoy Mahaffey, 5-4, Milwaukee to the Browns; Wes Flowers, 10-11, Toledo to Cubs; Ted Olson, 2-3, Minneapolis to Red Sox; Al Milnar, 5-15, Minneapolis to Cleveland; Russell Evans, 0-5, Kansas City to White Sox; Paul Sullivan, 7-13, Toledo to Detroit.

In earned runs, McGee was the A.A. leader, allowing 2.93 per game. Ryba was No. 13, Hatter tied for 23. Sullivan was 25, Flowers tied for 35. Milnar was 40, Olson 45, Mahaffey 55, Henry 61, Evans 77.

Pacing the seven recalled infielders with the stick was Gil English of Toledo with .335. Rudy York of Milwaukee was one point behind, followed by Russell Peters of Columbus, .314; Tony Malinosky of Louisville, .305; Don Gutteridge of Columbus, .293; Chet Wilburn of Milwaukee, .291; Flea Clifton of Toledo, .251.

York, Wilburn, Clifton and English belong to the Tigers, Gutteridge to the Cardinals, Peters to the Athletics, and Malinosky, after being returned to the Pirates, was sold to the Dodgers, where he will work for his old Louisville manager, Burleigh Grimes.

Earle Browne of Minneapolis, property of the Pirates, and Chet Laabs of Milwaukee, listed as a Detroit asset, are the two outfielders recalled. Laabs clouted .324. Browne, used extensively at first base by Minneapolis in addition to outfield duty, batted .325.

CINCINNATI, O., March 18.—Restoration of the Miami and Erie canal from Hamilton to Cincinnati as a means of raising the underground water table in the Mill creek valley industrial section of Cincinnati was urged today by David C. Warner, executive secretary of the Ohio conservation board.

The restored canal would bring enough water into the valley to replenish the water table twelve times a year, Warner said. He came here to confer with U. S. engineers working on flood control plans.
